EXTRA SESSION SEEMS PROBABLE

LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF PASSAGE OF ALL APPROPRIATION

BILLS,

FILIBUSTER AGAINST

SHIP MEASURE DELAYS

Democrats Accuse Republicans of Deliberately Aiming to Smother Philippines and Other Measures-"Pork" Advocates to Precipitate Fight Over Appropriations.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, Feb. 3-The Philippine bill, the conservation bills, the general dam bill and other general legislation probably have been made impossible for this session of congress because of the length of time to which the filibuster on the ship purchase bill has stretched out, coupled with the fact that if the ship purchase bill should be passed in the near future all the rest of the time up to March 4 would be needed to pass the appropriation

Even if the ship purchase bills should be passed now, there would be little time to devote to anything but appropriation measures before March Only about four weeks remain be fore the session closes and the senate has thus far made only a beginning on the appropriation measures. If an extra session is to be avoided thes measures will have to be taken up without much more delay.

Question Motives of Republicans. The friends of the ship purchase bill harge that one of the motives for the filibuster on that bill has been to block other general legislation, including the conservation bill and the Philippine ill. It has been a common thing a the capital for years for some piece of proposed legislation to be used as a buffer against bills which the leaders did not want passed. Undoubtedly the opposition to the conservation the dam bill and the Philippine bill has seen one of the reasons for fighting the ship purchase bill so persistently. It has not however, been the only rea-

Many Reasons For Opposition.

The opponents of ship purchase in clude some senators who are opposed to government ownership of ships some who have heavy shipping and shipyard interests in their states, some who, while for government ownership denounce the administration ship bill as a farce, not calculated to bring about permanent government owner ship, and some who fear that if the bill is passed there will be international difficulties and Uncle Sam may get his fingers burned in the European

It is the purpose of the supporters of the river and harbor bill to push this bill to the front just as soon as ship purchase is passed or sidetracked. They do not intend to wait until a lot of other appropriation bills get in ahead of the "pork barrel." If they do wait, they will stand no show whatever of having the river and harbor bill

If the river and harbor bill is thrown ahead of other bills the. some of the appropriation bills will be strictly endangered. The senate might debate the shipp bill until the middle of February and still pass the appropriation bill, if there were no controversy over them.

The president has delayed making the appointments to this body and now it is so late in the seesion that it is uncertain whether they be confirmed if named. This is especially the case of E. N. Insurance in Germany.

German statistics show that just be-fore the war 14,500 persons were protected by compulsory sickness insurance, 24,600,000 by compulsory accident insurance, and 16,000,000 by old ge and invalidity insurance, exclusive of several millions of salaried employes who were brought under compulsory insurance by recent legislation. This gives a rough idea of the all-around security enjoyed by the average German workman in practically all industries and many of the trades of the empire.
